Dear Member

I have pleasure in enclosing your 2009 membership card which identifies you as a member of the UK's professional body for the plumbing and heating engineering industry.

I am confident that our wide range of work and activities in pursuit of better standards will continue to hold the Institute and its growing membership in good stead. Continued progress of the Technical Services Board, widespread media coverage of the need to use professionally qualified plumbing and heating engineers, further development of the Master Plumber Certificate and our extensive Professional Development programme are evidence of our role as a pro-active professional body.

With your support we can look to the future with pride and confidence.

Yours sincerely,
